NEW YORK.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A special to the Star from New York says the democrats are seriously at work, obtaining evidence of fraud on the part of republicans, with a view to having the vote of New York counted for Hancock. The pressure to open the contest for the vote of the state comes principally from the southern states, and mainly from Kentucky and Richmond, Va.

Irving and Tammany hall and the state democratic committees have been diligent at work, and claim to have made discoveries which astound those engaged in the investigation. The national democratic committee has not yet taken hold of the matter, but its executive committee meets Friday. At that meeting the reports from three other committees, now working the subject up, will promise to furnish affidavits to prove frauds involving over twenty thousand votes. These committees will request the national committee to insist upon the appointment of a congressional committee of investigation into the New York election, and make it the very first business of both houses at the approaching session.

The republicans have done nothing, believing up to this time, as Gen. Hancock is utterly opposed to any scheme of the kind, and says so, nothing would come of the talk. But now they propose to be ready to demand that the same class of investigation shall proceed under their auspices in certain southern states and here, also, to prove democratic frauds.

Three or four democratic Senators have already been heard from. Senator Davis, of West Virginia, says he will not be a party to it, but will oppose any attempt to open the affair, and others say they will not think of giving it countenance. A nervous feeling prevails here and nothing but some public declaration from enough democratic congressmen to settle the matter now will avert the unsteadiness in business that is threatening to happen and to last till the votes are counted in January.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The official returns of the state are coming in, but cannot be obtained from three or four remote counties before Thursday. Thirty-four counties out of fifty-two show net republican gains over the previous figures of thirty-five votes. There is considerable difference between the vote for different electors, and with the general result so close it is quite possible a divided ticket may prove to be elected. Terry runs steadily behind and is beaten beyond question.

Official returns from all the counties in the fourth congressional district, except Eulare, Mariposa and Inyo, which are full, but not official, give Pacheco, republican, 153 majority. Official returns will make no material changes, and his election is settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—All the official returns are not yet in, but enough have been received to determine that the Hancock electors, Judge Terry excepted, have carried the state by a majority of from 200 to 300, while the republicans have elected 41 assemblymen, giving them a majority of two in the assembly and of twelve on joint ballot.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT VIRGINIAN.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 9.—A telegram from Wytheville, Va., says: Hon. Fayette McMullen, in an attempt to cross the railroad track at that place last night, was struck by the express train, receiving injuries from which he died to-day. Deceased was about 77 years of age. Forty-five years ago he was a member of the Virginia legislature, serving in both branches of that body a number of years. He also represented Virginia in congress several terms before the war, and was appointed by President Buchanan as the first governor of Washington territory. He was also a member of the confederate congress.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Nov. 9.—Full official returns from the counties composing the 4th congressional district of Virginia give Jorgenson, republican, more than 8,000 majority over Coleman, democrat. The total vote was nearly 14,000. This is the largest vote and the largest majority ever given in the 4th district, and leads the vote for the electoral ticket by over 500.

FIRE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The three upper stories of a five-story brick factory, Nos. 313 to 322 East Twenty-second street, were burned out this morning. The premises were occupied by the manufacturing firms of Hertz & Co., venter works, loss, $15,000; John Maret, glass grinder, $10,000. Other losses range from $5,000 down. Total loss, $50,000.

MISSIONARY APPROPRIATIONS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Methodist board of missions to-day made the following additional appropriations: Blue Ridge conference, $3,500; Central Tennessee, $4,000; Tennessee, $2,000; Georgia, $4,000; Lexington, Kentucky conference, including part of Ohio and Indiana, $3,000; Little Rock conference, $2,500; Louisiana, $7,000, and Mississippi $6,500.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A Berlin dispatch announces that 3,000 Jews have left Rumania for America, by way of Bremen.

A Pure White House.

"Gait" in Cincinnati Enquirer.

We shall have a pure white house under Garfield's administration. His wife, though apparently different, has faculties both a strong and genial, and without any desire for general society, will perform her part with a cheerfulness in which the sense of duty will be the guiding principle. Every duty of her life has been performed without hesitation, and she takes an interest in events and in interesting people. Garfield's boys will be off to school most of the time he is president. They are perfect apples of health, and look as if they were going to be strong, healthy men, like himself. He is one of the youngest men who ever became president, and on the 19th of the present month will only be forty-nine years old. He is also one of the few men who ever became president and brought his mother to the white house. She was seventy-nine years old just about the time she heard of the defeat of the republicans in Maine last September, and if she could survive that she may go through his whole term.

Mme. Janauschek Next Week.

Although it is Madame Janauschek's first visit to Knoxville, the great career she has sustained and the fame which has given her the title of the "greatest living tragedienne" are too well known to call for many words of a preliminary nature. For years, certainly since the death of Charlotte Cushman, Janauschek has had no rival in grand impersonations in this country. There has never been an adverse criticism in relation to her ability, whether in the classic works of Shakespeare, Schiller, Moliere, or in the modern efforts of dramatic authors. As "Lady Macbeth," as "Mary Stuart," as "Lady Dedlock," and "Hortense," or as the "Countess" in "Mother and Son," it is one and the same thing as far as praise goes—the highest is bestowed. Mme. Janauschek will offer a three impersonations in Knoxville, and a rich and varied dramatic feast is before our theatre goers. Incidentally it may be said for the benefit of our lady readers, that Mme. Janauschek will wear the superb jewels presented to her by crowned heads of Europe, showing during the four nights here no less than $150,000 worth of diamonds and other jewels, besides some gorgeous costumes purchased this year in London and Paris.

Remember her engagement begins Wednesday, 17th inst. The sale of seats will be commenced at Williams' book store Saturday next.

Rev. R. R. Burts, of Maunula, Fla., says: "Tatt's Pills are held in high repute as a liver regulator in hot climate. In fact, I hardly know how we could get along without them. Chills and fever have lost their dread. Our people take one or two doses of the pills and follow it with fifteen grains of Quinine, divided in three doses, during the day. Theague never returns."

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A report is current at Portsmouth this afternoon that the Channel Squadron is to be prepared to land a brigade of 2,800 troops, at Queenstown if ordered to do so.

A Constantinople dispatch to the Reuters telegram company says the porte has called out 80,000 rifles, and dispatched reinforcements to Salonica and Volo.

ONE of our contemporaries publishes a quotation from a correspondent of the Atlanta Constitution which is very uncomplimentary to the character and ability of Gen'l Garfield. The following from the pen of one of the acknowledged leaders of the democratic party, who has served in congress with Gen'l Garfield, is in marked contrast with the opinion of said correspondent, and is certainly entitled to more credit. The New York Tribune says: Henry Watterson enjoys the distinction of being the only democrat of prominence who had the courage to speak the truth about General Garfield, and to stick to it during the entire campaign. Now that the fight is over he says: "We declared early in the canvass what we here take leave to repeat, that Garfield is a person of commanding intellect, of voluminous experience in public affairs, incapable alike of personal venality or malice, and capable of being and of doing to be a just chief magistrate." Mr. Watterson, unlike the rest of the democratic editors, sees the wisdom of speaking the truth even of an opponent. There is not a democrat in the land, who is at all acquainted with General Garfield, who does not know that Mr. Watterson speaks the unimpeachable truth.

The Coal Miners' Strike Ended.

It was stated by us some days ago that the miners at Coal Creek were idle, except those of the Knoxville iron company, where convicts are worked. The differences have been adjusted between the owners of the mines and the miners, and they all went to work yesterday morning at the old figures, 2 cents per bushel. This, we are informed, affords very fair wages. The miners struck for three weeks, but things are all right now, and there need be no fears of a coal famine.

BULLDOZING.

How they do it in Mississippi.

A Graphic Description from a Former Knox County Boy.

LEXINGTON, MISS., Nov. 5, 1880.

MR. EDITOR, Yesterday's election in Holmes county, Ark. most other elections in the south, was a "re-run." The democrats were beaten in re-electing Mr. J. E. Ashcraft as sheriff at all hazards. A bloody prelude to the election, declaring that no greenbacker or republican should vote unless at the cost of his life. Two prominent greenbackers from Lexington went to Bowling Green to see "but their ticket had fair play. They were given ten minutes to leave the place in, but instead of leaving as ordered, they stood over two hours, all of which time the democrats kept the polls closed, and finally the mob dragged the two greenbackers to their buzzards and made them leave. At Lexington, the county seat, the election was a miserable farce. The law requires the polls to be open from 9 until 6 o'clock, constantly, but the democratic managers closed the polls one hour and a half for dinner.

The voting was done in a corner room of the court-house from an outside window, in front of which ropes were tied in order to keep voters back from the polls. But it was a noticeable fact that democrats would slip under the ropes or be slipped to the polls otherwise, and that other voters were thus crowded out by democrats. The darkies voted with the greenbackers in the county election this time, and in order to prevent them from outvoting the democrats, for an outside appearance, the managers made the voters come in line two and two, a black and a white man, and by challenging voters and unreasonable delay in taking votes, and hunting the names on the poll books, some three hundred votes were not cast at all, at this place alone. Old men say this election beats any they ever saw for unbecoming. This class of matters engendered bad feelings, and a row was the result. Mr. Jim Ashcraft, the father of the democratic candidate for sheriff had some insulting, bulldozing talk to Mr. Tom Lockhart, chamber clerk and a prominent greenbacker about the election, whereupon Lockhart struck old Mr. Ashcraft over the head with a cane, and then his son, the present sheriff, shot Lockhart in the bowels, after which Lockhart drew his pistol and shot young Ashcraft through the head and body, laying him dead. Mr. C. M. Hull, editor of the greenback paper, was shot in the back during the affray. Some think Mr. Hull helped to shoot Mr. Ed. Ashcraft, and others say he had no weapons at all. It is thought to be the clerk's sheriff, although this county has twice as many colored voters as whites.

Lexington was all aglow with excitement to-day. The "red shirts" marched to-day with double barreled shot guns, and it is thought they will lynch Mr. Hull to-night, although the officers are pretending to try to keep the peace.

Thus far no riot has occurred. Things have come to a dreadful pass in southern politics that there can be no freedom of speech and action without insult and bloodshed.

Present to Capt. Burleson.

A special meeting of the fire company, No. 2, was held at the hall last night, the most interesting feature of the occasion being the presentation to Capt. Green B. Burleson, the engineer of the steamer Luttrell, of a very handsome watch chain, as a token of esteem by the company. The presentation speech was made by city attorney Mel H. Dickson, in happily chosen and felicitous style, and was accepted with a grateful heart, as a souvenir long to be remembered. Capt. Burleson has tendered his resignation as engineer, and left this morning for Chattanooga, to take an engine on the C. S. railway.

THE INDUSTRIAL HOME.

Sixth Annual Anniversary of the Board of Directors.

The exercises of the sixth annual anniversary meeting of the board of directors of the Girls' Industrial Home, of Knoxville, attracted a large congregation at the second Presbyterian church Sunday night, thus attesting the interest which is taken by our citizens in this worthy and excellently managed institution. Most of the other churches gave way and were represented in the meeting.

The exercises were opened with music by the choir, reading of the scriptures by Rev. Dr. Jas. Park, of the First Presbyterian church, and prayer by Rev. J. G. Schaldt, of the Lutheran church.

Mr. Leon Jourlmon acted as chairman and Mr. J. W. Wallace as secretary, by request.

The report of the president, Mrs. Rev. Wm. Aiken, was read by Rev. F. E. Sturgis and the report of the secretary, Mrs. Tillman, by Mr. Lewis Tillman, Jr.

Both these reports recite a very interesting and gratifying story of the successful management of the institution during the past year, and the good accomplished. It is shown that at the beginning of the year there were 19 girls inmates; 12 have been taken in during the year; 9 placed in good homes, 2 run away and one was sent to Nashville. There are now 20. Ten of these are sent to the public school, five are employed in the sewing and domestic departments, and five are too small to attend school or work. The sewing department is represented as being the only course of income except from dues and donations. The excellent management of the present matron, Mrs. Lord, is highly spoken of. Both reports set forth the absolute necessity for a new building, both on account of the location, which is not desirable, and from the fact that the owners of the building desire to sell it, and they may be turned out at any time. Earnest appeals are made for assistance in procuring new quarters.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Dr. Jas. Park, was read by Mr. Wallace. It makes the following showing:

Balance on hand from the last year, $32.23; appropriation from the county court, $100; proceeds of the sewing department, $291.05; contributions and dues, $622.38, making a total of $1,045.74.

The disbursements are, for rent, $168.63; matron's salary, $181.27; incidental expenses, $669.86, making a total of $1,019.76. There is a balance in the treasury of $13.98; claims outstanding against the institution, $68.07, leaving a deficit of $35.09.

Remarks were made by Messrs. J. W. Galt, J. A. Ray, Jno. L. Moses, W. O. White, T. H. Heald, and Rev. I. Emory, heartily endorsing the work of the noble ladies who have assumed the charge of rearing and reforming the unfortunate children who infest the slums of our city, and earnestly appealing for help for the home, more especially for some plan to supply the ladies with a new location.

Mr. Heald exhibited to the congregation one of the little children which had been taken and cared for, a beautiful and intelligent child, neatly and comfortably dressed, and bearing evidences of good attention. This was an eloquent argument for the institution.

Mr. Mitchell suggested that the pastors of the various churches in the city be requested to present the matter from their pulpits and prepare for contributions by the envelope plan to a fund for the erection or procurement of new quarters for the home.

Mr. Tillman suggested that provision is made in the charter, which has been obtained, to raise the necessary funds from the membership, and he explained the matter fully. He said all that is needed is the requisite number of members.

After some further discussion, Rev. F. E. Sturgis moved the appointment of a committee of lay members from each church in the city, who shall act in connection with the ladies in the matter of procuring a new location for the home. The motion was carried and the chair announced that the committee would be appointed and published in the papers.

After music by the choir the meeting was dismissed, with the benediction by Dr. Park.

JOLLIFICATION.

Mingling of the Merry McMinn Men. Speeches, Enthusiasm and Other Campaign Adjuncts.

Monday was a big day for our republican friends of McMinn county. This, it will be remembered, is one of the reclaimed counties in the next legislature, and this victory, together with the ones this aided to win, made them all as happy as kings. The jollification last night was a grand success for a little town and small county to inaugurate.

About 4 o'clock the old reliables from the surrounding country began to pour into Athens and by dark the square was crowded, at least 600 people being on the ground. A procession was formed, which, after marching around the town, cheering like Comanche Indians or democrats before all the returns are in, returned to the public square, where a box had been taken for the speakers.

Hon. A. A. Taylor was first introduced, and then the editor of the CHRONICLE, and finally Judge Houk, all of whom being received with loud applause. After these gentlemen had finished a large crowd marched up to the Magill house and Messrs. R. W. Austin, Smith Riggs, Smith, of McMinnville, Alex. Reeder and John Hunt in response to calls made brief speeches in the order mentioned. Some considerable merriment was created by Judge Houk's introduction of Mr. Reeder as the author or a new book on arithmetic by which the subtraction of one from two invariably left three.

The people of McMinn county deserve credit for the result attained in the late election. It contains very stalwart democrats, but more stalwart republicans, as the returns show. Mr. Browder, who was their last representative in the last legislature and who was just about as sound on the state debt as an egg "329" days old is succeeded by Mr. Buttram, whose vote will be always for state credit and the right. Knox sends greetings to her.

Almost Young Again.

My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy, inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family.—A lady in Providence, R. I.—Journal.
